The Wednesday Walk on Thursdays

45 – NGH from Longley Park – 2.8 miles

We have all wondered if there is an alternative to parking in the expensive car parks at Northern General Hospital, so this walk investigates if it is worth parking in Longley Park instead.

Anticlockwise

From the car park in Longley Park, we cross Longley Lane and follow Longley Hall Road round to the blood centre. Left and left again down Norwood Grange Drive and try not to get lost in the hospital. If anybody knows the way (or if it is raining) we may cut straight through the buildings, otherwise we'll walk round the North end and then down to the exit onto Barnsley Road. Turn left up the hill then bear left down the footpath opposite Hucklow Road to emerge opposite the park.

If we have managed not to get lost in the hospital grounds, we will now have time to run up the hill and admire the views from the top – or if it's raining we can leave that for another time.

Short route – just walk round the park

Risks

- Traffic on the road crossings, walking beside busy roads.
- May get lost in the hospital!
